Presentation of Christ in the Temple Giotto 1266 - 1337

The Painting:

This painting is one of many key works of art that capture this event. It depicts the moment when Simeon and the prophetess Anna (at the right) recognize the infant Jesus as the saviour. The Christ Child reaches across the altar towards his mother in a natural gesture. Giotto's ability to create believable space within the picture and his skill at depicting emotion made him one of the most famous artists of his time.

The Significance:

This festival marks the conclusion of the Epiphany Season, and our return to 'Ordinary Time'. It is the final act of revelation in Epiphany in which Simeon identifies the infant Jesus as the 'light for revelation to the Gentiles' and the glory of Israel in the fulfilment of God's promise.

The event also shows obedience to Jewish law, regarding the rite of purification and redemption of the firstborn. It could also be said that the event demonstrates humility and submission to divine will, in that despite being the Son of God, Jesus is presented in accordance with the law.

Perhaps also we see a prophetic foretelling in the words of Simeon as he sees that Jesus will bring salvation but also cause the suffering of Mary ('a sword will pierce your own soul').

'Candlemas'; and, of course, candles are blessed and processed to symbolise both the light that has come into the world but also our call as the church to radiate this light.

Confirmation and Baptism

Historically, in the Early Church, baptism and confirmation was a single, unified rite of Christian initiation. Adult converts received washing, anointing, and the laying on of hands simultaneously to signify purification and the reception of the Holy Spirit. Over time, as infant baptism became common, the rites separated, with confirmation delayed and reserved for a bishop to seal the initial baptismal grace with the gifts of the Spirit.

Baptism marks the beginning of a journey with God which continues for the rest of our lives, the first step in response to God's love. For all involved, particularly the candidates but also and sponsors (and, for children, parents and godparents) it is a joyful moment. It is one when we rejoice in what God has done for us in Christ, making serious promises and declaring the faith.

The wider community of the local church and friends welcome the new Christian, promising support and prayer for the future. Hearing and doing these things provide an opportunity for all to remember our own baptism and reflect on the progress we have made on that journey, which is now to be shared with this new member of the Church.

Confirmation is a special church service in which a person confirms the promises made when they were baptised. A young person or adult will affirm these promises and commit to following Jesus Christ.

At a confirmation service, we make these promises for ourselves. Friends and family, as well as the local worshipping community, gather to promise to support and pray for us. Confirmation requires the presence of a bishop who will lay their hands on the candidate's head and ask God's Holy Spirit to give the strength and commitment to live God's way for the rest of the person's life.

Preparation for Baptism and Confirmation

At the moment there are quite a few adults and young people thinking about becoming baptised and/or confirmed. We recognize that not everyone follows the same path in this journey! So, over the next period we will be offering individual pathways, and also groups for adults and, of course, young people to explore the journey to Baptism and Confirmation.

If you are already on this journey, we will have contacted you recently. If we haven't contacted you, and you would like to move forward to Baptism or Confirmation then please email or call Fr Charles (or one of the Ministry Team) or have a conversation with one of us whilst at church.

Stewardship Campaign

During this year we will engage in a Stewardship Campaign. We recognise that giving is part of our Christian faith, as:

- giving is a response to the giving of a generous God
- giving enables mission and ministry
- giving helps people to feel that they, and their gifts, are valued by the church

Giving is therefore first and foremost not a matter of practicality, but part of our everyday faith and discipleship – our journey of following Christ. We will form a Stewardship Team who will work with us to consider our giving of:

- Time
- Treasure
- Talents to the benefit of the life and mission of All Saints.
